· Salutation ·

Dating back to the year 1942, at sundry times in the columns of the NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK MAGAZINE, appeared a series of historical narratives and controversial articles under title of The Story Behind the Token. Unquestionably this narrative-article combination has been the motivating force responsible for the present widespread interest in transportation tokens. Proof of this is to be found in the numerous inquiries that reached the desk of the publishers of the Magazine, as well as that of the author of the combination, on where might be had a dependable check list on the transportation tokens of the United States.

The answer to these inquiries — Check List of U. S. Transportation Tokens — began in the January, 1943 issue of the NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK MAGAZINE and ran serially to its conclusion in that of September, 1944. That the answer was eminently satisfactory is attested to, not only by the hearty endorsement of those already interested in this fascinating branch of numismatics, but, also, by the gratifying accretion in the ranks of collectors. Gratifying also were the numerous requests for a reprint of the list in handy book form. The present volume, with contents revised, is the answer to those requests.

Furthermore, and as occasion arises, in the forthcoming columns of the Magazine will appear new items, data and informative comment intended for entry upon the blank pages of the book so that one may keep the records strictly up to the times.

To the enterprising and progressive publishers of the popular NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK MAGAZINE is extended commendations for having made it possible that this helpful and invaluable work is now available to the collecting fraternity, and at a price unusually reasonable for an informative document of this character.

As for the author, who has left nothing undone to bring the list up to its present high standard, be it known that he is just "another human being." And since no human being is immune from error, he will appreciate having his attention directed to any error, at any time, should it inadvertently appear in the list.
